Addendum B – Discipline Matrix

1. DISCIPLINARY MATRIX

- a. This Disciplinary Matrix is designed to ensure that similar violations receive similar penalties. Although the matrix does not include all possible charges which may arise out of a violation of rules, regulations, policies, orders or law, it provides a representative sampling.
- b. In this regard the Department Head should attempt to follow the guidelines of this section relating to the various categories of offenses, and will review discipline currently rendered in similar cases. The guidelines within this section are just that and may be deviated from, dependent upon the above listed factors.
- c. Command and supervisory personnel will use the matrix in conjunction with mitigating and/or aggravating factors which may suggest a greater or lesser level of discipline. Some of these factors might include but are not limited to:
 - i. The nature of the incident associated with the disciplinary action; Any associated injury severity; The level or degree of any associated damages; The involved employee's intent or lack thereof with reference to the incident which required the need for discipline; Any previous record of performance as it might relate to the incident which required the need for discipline; and/or
 - ii. The existence of any mitigating and/or aggravating factors.

2. DISCIPLINE CATEGORIES

- a. The Disciplinary Matrix separates discipline recommendations into five groups labeled A through E with A as the lowest level of discipline and E as the highest. In using this matrix, the suggested category for a given violation should be the maximum punishment in assessing discipline. Mitigating factors explained in the previous section should then be considered. These factors may cause the recommendation to go down one or more categories. Finally, any previous same or similar violation should cause discipline to move up one or more categories appropriately.

3. LEVELS OF DISCIPLINE FOR VARIOUS CATEGORIES

- a. Category "A" Violations: These are minor rules violations which will normally require a written reprimand. The same or similar violation within a 12-month period elevates the violation to a Category "B".
- b. Category "B" Violations: These are minor misconduct violations which will normally justify summary punishment starting with a suspension of ten (10) hours. The same or similar violation with a 12-month period elevates the violation to a Category "C".
- c. Category "C" Violations: These are misconduct violations which normally justify summary punishment limited to a suspension of up to twenty (20) hours. The same or similar violation within a 24-month period elevates the violation to a Category "D".

- d. Category "D" Violations: These are serious misconduct violations which normally justify a suspension of up to thirty (30) hours. The same or similar violation within a 24-month period elevates the violation to a Category "E".
- e. Category "E" Violations: These are serious misconduct violations which justify a suspension of forty (40) hours or more, demotion or termination of employment.
